

A Thrilling Duel in Run

Walters Victor By Three Yards In Long Race

Paulist A. C. Athlete Has Hard Tussle to Win From Zabludofsky

By A. C. Cavagnaro

Joseph K. Walters, the consistent little runner of the Paulist Athletic Club, defeated Peter Zabludofsky, a representative of Evening Recreation Centre No. 19, by three yards, for first prize in the open novice four-mile run of the Hollywood Inn Athletic Association, held in Yonkers yesterday.

It was a test of sprinting speed throughout the final 400 yards, and Joe, taking a leap out of the back of his brother Philip, the Catholic League sprinting champion, succeeded in beating his rival by making his effort at the proper time. The duel was one of the best of the present outdoor campaign.

Unattached Athlete Third

Eddie Kolber, an unattached athlete, was third, trailing twenty-five yards behind, with Mike Cirigliano, Harbrook Athletic Club, a close fourth. The other runners finished close to their heels, many spirited sprints near the tape breaking the monotony of the unexciting run.

The victory of Walters marked his first effort in an open event, and this speaks well for his chances of rapidly gaining prominence among the distance runners. Within the last two weeks Walters scored two successive wins in the weekly handicap races of the Lower Manhattan League, of which his club is a member.

The team prize controversy brought out a hot fight between the Harriers of the Harbrook Athletic Club and the Paulist Athletic Club, with the Harbrook youngsters, the van, 24 to 31 points. While the Paulist boys earned first place, their rivals ran better bunched, an important essential in team competition.

The contest was postponed from last New Year's Day, owing to the cold weather that prevailed on that day. However, while the weather for the sport yesterday was ideal, the athletes had to contend with snow and mud underneath. This necessitated a change in the course, the officials thereupon mapping out a run from the clubhouse at Getty Square south on Broadway to 25th Street and return.

Only Three Fail to Finish

Only three of the thirty-five starters failed to finish. One of the victims was Joseph Lenihan, Paulist Athletic Club, who fell at the second mile, suffering bruises on the right side of his body. He was carried back to the clubhouse in an automobile.

A crowd that packed the start greeted the boys on their return and return. After the wild scramble at the start, the athletes settled down for the long journey. Louis Siegel, of the College of the City of New York, was in the van with five others bunched, among whom were Walters and Zabludofsky. Siegel set a fast pace over the muddy roads and successfully fought off a challenger for his position.

Walters and Zabludofsky were content to keep within striking distance of the leader. At the third mile Siegel began to weaken, and half a mile further on had to give up his van position. Walters and Zabludofsky then fought out a stride for stride race to within 400 yards of the finish, where Walters made his sprint which won him the victory.

Season's Record Broken in Travers Island Shoot—A Remarkable Tie

By A. C. Cavagnaro

The season's record string of fifty-five shooters gathered at Travers Island yesterday for the special Lincoln's Birthday Handicap of 160 birds, for which there were ten prizes in all, five for the handicap division and five for the five high guns in the handicap brigade.

The scratch department was by far the most interesting, as four of the keenest marksmen figured in the scratch, or, in other words, they shot from the back mark of ten birds. They were D. F. McMahon, who made one of the international team that won the Olympic Games in 1912; R. L. Spotts, the ex-amateur national champion; Frank R. Stephenson, a runner-up in the national and other big prizes, and W. R. Delehan, who has been shooting first class of late.

Close Race Promised

After about 100 birds had been flung it was evident that the race would be close between McMahon and Spotts, as they were close level. Then that the finish they broke bird for bird, and when the last clay had been flung they were level, with totals of 153 out of the possible 160.

It was a good shooting day, but even at that the breaks were splendid right through. No such remarkable tie has ever before occurred at Travers Island for a long race. McMahon and Spotts shot off a race of twenty clays and McMahon won. The international champion was awarded first prize and Spotts got second. W. S. Silkworth earned third prize, with 152, and George J. Corbett fourth, with 151. W. B. Ogden was fifth, with the same score.

Fourteen tied in the handicap race, with totals of 160, and they were forced to resort to a shoot-off of twenty clays to decide the ownership of the prizes. Their scores were not made known officially in the shoot-off, but the prize winners were announced as follows: R. R. Debecher, first, A. W. Currie, second; J. I. Branden, third; A. P. Bennett, fourth, and W. Bower, fifth.

Winkler Rouses Interest

With the gallery which stood around there was considerable interest in the work of A. H. Winkler, of Chicago, who created such a sensation on his arrival in the East last Saturday. He shot from scratch and broke 145, but there were several of the club members tied with better figures. He could not seem to get the right angle on the clays as they flew, and missed a number of easy ones.

Blacks Capture Prizes at Show of Pomeranians

The eighth annual specialty show of the Pomeranian Club of America at the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday supplied one of the most interesting dog exhibits of recent years. Evidently it was the day for the black Pom, as two black candidates owned by Mrs. O. E. Lakeland, of Summit, N. J., swept the boards in both the dogs and bitches winners of the title. To have carried off the two championships in one show is a record for one owner.

With Pioneer Wee Blackie, Mrs. Lakeland went through to the winners class in dogs, where she encountered Mrs. Olin Finney's Red Cross, a female that has been cutting a wide swath in all the local shows this season. The meeting of the pair was the grand climax of the show, and Captain A. H. Hall, of the Bar, first referee, Commission, who judged the dogs in full uniform, was closely watched as he scrutinized the contestants. Then he turned to the judge and to get reserve to the dog, Mrs. M. Stoker, also shown by Mrs. Lakeland.

Several other exhibitors did well. Mrs. Frank T. Clarke showed Fairfax, a dog, a five generation puppy bitch, in the class of specialty dogs bred by exhibitors. It is a solid black and a little dog of wonderful conformation, and Captain Hall had little trouble in decorating it with the blue ribbon.

The show was notable for the few chocolate-colored candidates, and, in fact, the sables and the wolf-sables were not so numerous in color to catch the favorable eye of Captain Hall.

Caught on the Wing

By A. C. Cavagnaro

The big silver bowl presented by Sarah Bernhardt was the big attraction at the first annual specialty show of the Yorkshire Terrier Association of America at the Park Avenue Hotel yesterday. The dogs were shown in the green room, and that as well as other rooms who expected that the great actress herself would be on hand to present the prize. They were disappointed, for she sent word at the last minute that she could not be there.

The judging for the bowl resulted in the victory of a bitch named Lena, owned by Mrs. A. Radcliffe, of Philadelphia. Mrs. William C. Thompson's Gatenby's St. Wilfred King, an imported dog, which has won a long string of prizes, was second. Mrs. Thompson was so disappointed that she said she will never again show a dog in America. Her dog was said to be in poor condition.

In the winners and other big classes Mrs. A. Radcliffe scored heavily. With Lena she earned the laurels in the winner's class of bitches, and this little candidate scored well in the specials. Little Mary won in the special for open dogs. With King's Laddie, Mrs. James Hogg won in the class specials for American bred dogs.

William E. Rice showed a splendidly marked little dog named Taffy of Delmar, and he caught the eye of the judge for a red streamer in the class for local dogs.
